Little hands, big learning!

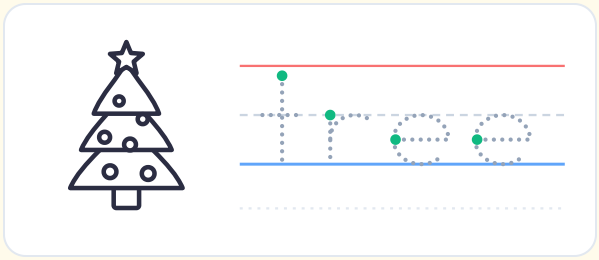

Name: _____

Welcome, grown-ups!

Eighteen Christmas pictures, one page each, to color, trace and spell.

Your child colors the picture, traces the word and then writes it alone on the lines. A fun fact on every page gets you talking about the holiday season. Shadow and matching games at the end turn the new words into a quick review.

How to read a Christmas page

- Color the big picture. The small one shows one way to do it.
- Start at the green dot and trace the dotted letters.
- Then write the word yourself on the empty lines.
- Read the fun fact, then color a star.

Tips for happy practice

1. Print at 100%. Choose "Actual size" on A4 or US Letter paper. Crayons or colored pencils work best.
2. Talk about your holiday. Which of these things do you have at home? Families celebrate in many ways, so let your child tell you about theirs.
3. Say the word, then write it. Say the word out loud, trace the dots from left to right, then write it alone on the empty lines.
4. Little and often. One or two pages a day is plenty. The game pages are a good break when little hands are tired.
5. Any color is fine. A purple reindeer is a great reindeer! Let your child choose the colors.
